Workshop 1: Barn Workshop

We will be making an old barn on a background. You can choose some of the elements you want to include or leave out. The workshop supply list on my website gives more details on what to bring and some choices you can make.

The nice thing about this kind of landscape quilting is that it is "easy" AND challenging. By breaking down the steps, I'll show you how to turn the photo into a quilt. Using the techniques from the workshop, you will be able to make more amazing art quilts.

Workshop 2: Tree Workshop

This workshop teaches those who want to experiment with landscape quilting to make a landscape background and add a tree. Participants can bring their own tree designs. The finished tree can be any season, any kind of tree, even an apple tree or a spring redbud tree.

Landscaping with Fabric, Not Dirt

The trunk show, "Landscaping with Fabric, Not Dirt," consists of 40-50 landscape quilts Many of the quilts are from photos of places I've traveled in Kansas and abroad.

I will describe
- my process
- inspiration to the design
- special techniques/equipment
- incorporating details
- fixing "mistakes"

Workshops

I offer two workshops. A landscape tree and a weathered barn.

Traditional quilting involves cutting little pieces of fabric and sewing them together in a pattern. Landscape quilting has some of the same elements. We still use small pieces of fabric and sew them together in a pattern. This quilting may involve glue and fusibles. But generally, it is not a repeating pattern—which is what I really like about this kind of quilting!

I will take you through the process of making a landscape quilt. We will talk about

- photos and what to capture in the photo
- how to get a photo ready for the pattern
- making the "canvas"
- building the background
- building separate elements
- adding details
- quilting and thread painting
- finishing

Fees:

Trunk Show (1 hour) $300

Barn Workshop (6-7 hours) $450
Tree Workshop (4 hours) $400
